

Consent for Social/Emotional/Behavioral Consultation

The Young Children’s Assessment & Treatment Services (YCATS) program of Samaritan Behavioral Health Inc. is partnering with Preschool Promise of Dayton to provide social/emotional/behavioral consultation to children 6 and under attending centers involved with Preschool Promise of Dayton. This service is free of cost to children and families. This consultation includes a classroom observation, recommendations to preschool staff regarding classroom interventions that may improve the child’s social/emotional well-being and overall success in the classroom, and consultation with the parent or guardian about what interventions were recommended and how the parent or guardian can assist in facilitating those recommendations. This service may also include classroom intervention by the consultant, and demonstration of recommended interventions to teaching staff in the classroom.

In order for your child to receive an individualized consultation, we must receive consent from you that you agree to these consultation services. Please fill out the portion below to give consent to consultation services:
